You need not possess special areas of expertise or work experience to join our volunteer team.
An eagerness to contribute, a willingness to learn, and a welcoming smile are our only requirements. However, we would like to enable you to make the most rewarding contribution possible. If you would like to share some areas in which you are comfortable and have knowledge of, we'll try to make sure your special abilities and interests are best utilized.

The single most important, defining characteristic of any non-profit organization is the people who work within it.

Our volunteers define the progress of the museum and assure the organization's effectiveness in carrying out its mission, programs, and activities.

Sharing the Museum of Indigenous People

An invitation to Volunteer

Explore the fun and rewarding opportunities which are available for you.

The mission of the Museum of Indigenous People is to instill understanding and respect for the indigenous cultures of the southwest.

Rewards of Volunteerism

- ◆ The joy of giving back to your community.
- ◆ Being happier, healthier, and enjoying a longer life (studies have proven this).
- ◆ Meeting new and interesting people from our community and from all over the world.
- ◆ A chance to grow and expand your mind as you learn about Native American culture and art.
- ◆ The opportunity to use your life skills for a good cause. Share your skills in education, gardening, marketing, business, retail, public relations, building maintenance... you name it!
- ◆ Discounts for purchases and events.
- ◆ Advance notice of events, tours, lectures, and exhibit openings.

Most of all, the satisfaction of knowing you are giving back and doing so with fun and dedicated fellow volunteers.

Volunteers
created
our museum.

Volunteers
ensure that it
lives on for the future.

Volunteers are very important to The Museum of Indigenous People. This institution of education depends on community support and we value our volunteers as a vital component of our mission...

To instill understanding and respect for the indigenous cultures of the southwest.

Thank you very much for your desire to help us maintain and grow the Museum of Indigenous People for future generations.
